 It was up to the spectators to decide whether the life of a defeated Roman gladiator should be spared. By pointing their thumbs down, they could instruct the victor to kill him. If the crowd waved and applauded, the defeated gladiator lived to fight another day.

Eight Persons Killed on State Roads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Eight persons died on Arkansas highways in seven separate accidents during the weekend.
 The Associated Press count of highway fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and concluded at midnight Sunday.

State Police said Becky Morris, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Russell of Searcy, and Danny Skelton, 19, of Hot Springs were killed Sunday in separate accidents.

Officers said Miss Morris was a passenger in an eastbound vehicle driven by Vickie Smith, 18, of Searcy. Authorities said the vehicle, traveling on Arkansas 31, attempted to cross U.S. 67 at Beebe and collided with a northbound car driven by Denver Nettles, 49, of Beebe. State Police said Nettles, 15-year-old Rita Nettles, Miss Smith and Alice Burns, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns of Searcy, were hospitalized.

Skelton was killed Sunday in a one-car accident on U.S. 64 east of Bald Knob. Authorities said Skelton apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

The other victims were Homer Clark Jr., 42, of Little Rock; Mrs. Jo Ann Caudle, 36, of North Little Rock; J. E. Harrington, 51, of North Little Rock; Mrs. Jackie Stewart, 38, of Jacksonville; Rocky Smith, 20, of near Beebe and Mrs. Ella Mae McConnell, 49, of Green Forest.

Clark and Mrs. Caudle were killed Saturday when the car in which they were riding went out of control on Interstate 40 near North Little Rock.

Harrington was killed Saturday in a one-car accident on Arkansas 365 in North Little Rock. Mrs. Stewart was killed Saturday in a two-car accident on Interstate 30 in North Little Rock.

Smith was killed Saturday in a collision between his pickup truck and a Missouri Pacific freight train in Ward, Mrs.

alliance and its military forces. Plans to send a U.S. reconnaissance squadron to Germany this week have been interpreted in some quarters as suggesting a strengthening of U.S. military power in Germany.

Ever since U.S. military forces were invited out of France, U.S. reconnaissance squadrons once based there have been rotating between the United States and West Germany on a regular basis.

There has been persistent speculation that the United States might return some of the 33,000 men withdrawn from Germany recently.

These forces, including fighter squadrons and infantry units, were pulled back in order to relieve the balance of payments deficit. The plan was to return some of these troops periodically for maneuvers.

Both Clifford and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who will accompany the Pentagon chief to Germany, have made it plain they regard it as important to maintain a substantial American troop presence in West Europe.

Obituaries

ESSIE C. HUDDLESTON

Essie Cullin Huddleston, age 77, died Saturday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was a member of the Pentecost Church.

Surviving are two daughters; Mrs. Nell Osborn of Hope and Mrs. Sam Medford of Shreveport, La.

Funeral was at 3:00 p.m. Sunday at Oakcrest Chapel by the Rev. Lacy Rowe and the Rev. D. D. Fairchild. Interment was in Memory Gardens by Oakcrest Funeral Home.

Rhonda Lynn Johnson, 22-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson of Hope, died in a Little Rock hospital early Saturday.

She is survived by her parents and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. D.D. White of Hope.

Graveside services were held at 10:00 a.m. today in Morris Cemetery by the Rev. Raymond Hicks with Oakcrest Funeral Home in charge.

NEW YORK (AP) — Miss Jane M. Hoey, head of the Federal Bureau of Public Assistance from 1936 to 1954, died Sunday in a New York hospital after a stroke. She was 76. Miss Hoey also served as United States delegate to the United Nations Social Commission from 1954 to 1957.

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Ernest T. DeWald, who devoted much of his life to saving Italy's art treasures from war and natural disaster, died Saturday after collapsing at the Columbia-Princeton football game. He was 77. During World War II, DeWald advised the U.S. Army Air Corps so that buildings of historic and artistic value could be saved from bombing. In 1967 he helped in efforts to restore art works damaged in the flooding of Florence, Italy. DeWald retired in 1960 as a professor of art at Princeton University.

and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

The peppery speaker chided newspaper editors for their attitude toward his presidential campaign and told his hearers if he could be labeled a racist, so could they.

Wallace said, "everyone of you has been called a racist" by the Kerner commission, a reference to the National Commission on Civil Disorders, headed by former Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois.

That commission, the independent candidate for president said, had blamed newspapers for a breakdown in law and order.

He said, "If everybody in this country is a racist who had been charged to be a racist, then we have a room full of racists."

He noted the large crowds he has drawn in his speaking appearances. He said that if the only people who support him are redneck working men, the nation has millions.

But he added, "I saw some people on the Boston Commons who will never get a red neck. There's too much hair for the sun to get through."

Wallace's comment on treason and nuclear warfare came in a question-and-answer session that followed his basic speech calling for local control of schools, law and order, and dignity for the little man.

The candidate said he thought voters appreciated the fact he gives the same speech rather than change it from day to day. He said, "We don't say one thing about open housing in Washington, D.C., and a different thing in Miami, Fla."

Wallace, in Washington for speeches to the UPI editors and at the National Press Club, said a poll showing that he could finish second to Nixon is wrong—that he is going to finish first.

WET OR DRY?

Editor The Star: A "dry" vote will not dry up the County.

A "wet" vote will not make the County any wetter.

A "dry" vote will perpetuate the uncontrolled sale of liquor to alcoholics and minors.

A "wet" vote will reduce illegal sale of liquor to a small fraction of what it is now under the "bootlegger system".

A question for the militant prohibitionist who would "not compromise his moral principles": Which is better, bootleggers selling booze to our teenagers, or controlled sales that would make bootlegging unprofitable?

One shouldn't expect legal liquor to reduce bootlegging to zero but it would be reasonable to expect a reduction from twice as many bootleggers as there are police to perhaps less than half as many.

The clergyman who "would not compromise his religious principles" could perhaps spend a minute with arithmetic and count the blessings of reducing illegal liquor sales to minors to a fourth or less what it is now. Would this "compromise" his principles?

This is not a question of pure white or pure black, but shades of gray. We now have a dark gray situation where (it is said) there are over 40 places in the County where a person of any age can "buy a fifth". Legal liquor sales would not likely reduce that number to zero, but if it reduced the number to ten or less wouldn't that be a lighter shade of gray?

Finally, the "uncompromising" clergyman should recall John 3, 2-10, and that it would have been a miracle of equal impact had Our Lord turned wine into water. Sincerely, low and moderate income families and make more rental housing available to them.

President Johnson asked for $90 million in additional funds for the food stamp program, which helps poor families get more food for their money.

Congress recently authorized that much of an increase, but the committee trimmed the appropriation itself to $20 million. The funds would be in addition to $255 million already appropriated for this fiscal year.

Under the new housing program the federal government helps pay the interest costs on building low-income housing.

Johnson asked for $11.5 million, sufficient to contract for $150 million worth of such housing this year, but the committee recommended spending only $5 million, which would limit contract authority to $60 million.

Spa Seeking Branch of Institute

MEMPHIS (AP) — Hot Springs officials and civic leaders are negotiating with the Smithsonian Institution for a $10 million branch museum, the Memphis Commercial Appeal reported in its Sunday editions.

The newspaper quoted "a reliable source" as saying the branch would have many items the Smithsonian would like to exhibit in Washington, D.C., but cannot for lack of space.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., and five or six Smithsonian officials are scheduled to meet with Hot Springs leaders in Hot Springs Friday night to continue discussions of the proposed branch, the Commercial Appeal said.

It quoted its source as saying a California research firm has been hired by Hot Springs officials to study the costs and potential of such a museum.

ing provision of the new civil rights law enacted this year, Johnson asked for $8 million for the Department of Housing and Urban Development. But the committee cut the amount to $1 million.

The Justice Department also requested $300,000 to carry out its role in enforcing open housing, but the entire sum was eliminated by the committee.

A $19.2 million request for a new juvenile delinquency control and prevention program was trimmed to $5 million by the committee. Grants under the program would help finance comprehensive planning by states and local agencies.

State Poll for Humphrey

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A presidential poll conducted at a labor leadership training school here showed Vice President Hubert Humphrey far ahead of Republican Richard M. Nixon and third party candidate George C. Wallace.

The students at the school were "rank and file members" from labor locals in Arkansas and Oklahoma according to J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO. Humphrey garnered 49 votes, Wallace 10 and Nixon four.

northeast of Hot Springs have been offered as a site for the branch by Peter Joers, head of Dierks Forests Inc., the newspaper reported.

Construction would be financed by the city through revenue bonds, the article said, and the Smithsonian would give the artifacts for the museum and "add its prestigious name to the project."

The source said the project had not received final approval, but that it was "definite enough that Hot Springs is raising money to pay for the survey," the Commercial Appeal said.

FASHION IN THE NEWS

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA)—The one question in the world of fashion that can arouse more pros and cons than any other is: "Has the waistline returned to the point where the unfitted shape is out of style?"

Let's take the pros—those who without a moment's hesitation vote, "Aye." They feel that a belt leaves no doubt there is a waistline which may or may not need trimming down. And they claim the belt is a bold statement of femininity that is here to stay.

On the other hand, the cons maintain you cannot beat the unrestrained fluidity that the no-belt silhouette displays. It is so easy to wear and still accentuates the figure with subtle nuance. Further, it permits more diet self-indulgence and adds up to a more relaxed way of living.

Right now the pros appear to be in the ascendancy for, like it or not, the belt is influencing fashion.

Like most "let's-try-and-see" innovations, it started with a small foothold, pushed the fashion door a bit wider and now is intently bent on not being denied.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

TWO HANG-UPS ABOUT SLANG

Dear Helen: I've two dilemmas, or hang-ups as the kids say. Both involve teen-age slang.

My first problem is that my young son seems to feel it's undignified or un-something for his mother to use the current slang.

When I asked him what he meant, he replied, "Well, just talk like others mothers. Why can't you use the words of your own generation?"

I felt as if I should look up from my spinning wheel and say "Prithie, whereof do you speak?"

Well, I'll admit the slang of my generation was more specific. Ask a dozen kids nowadays what "making out" means and you get a dozen answers — it's something different to every one of them. But in my time we knew where we stood. "Necking" was kissing; "petting" was advanced exploration; and "going all the way" was exactly that.

Next problem: Why is so much of the current teen talk drug or hippie oriented? — "It's my thing (or bag)," "freak-out," "blow your mind," "crash," "spaced or psyched-out." They mostly imply you're drawing away from the world.

Don't get me wrong. I think slang is colorful, graphic and fun. So: 1. Why should an expressive phrase be restricted to the kids and off limits to parents? And 2. Why can't the kids walk around the hippies and hoppies and come up with live sayings of their own? — PERPLEXED PARENT

Dear Parent: I know a woman whose answer to "forbidden" modern slang was a barrage of oldies: "Horsefeathers!" "Ginger peachy," "Swelligan!" "Hot patootie," "Razzamatazz!" . . . Her kids thought it so quaint they started a fad around school, so she graduated to "hang-up" and "Sock it to me!"

The moral is: When they copy us, it's a compliment, but if we copy them — good-bye! If you'd have the drug-oriented words die out fast, start using them, Parent. — H

Dear Helen: "Mark" says a little adultery was good for his marriage. What he doesn't know is that while his wife may be working hard to prevent it happening again, she'll never really feel the same toward him.

I know. It happened to me. My husband probably feels as smug as Mark, for our marriage now seems better than ever since I won him back. But though I don't want to think this way, I keep putting down an awful desire to get even. I can't forget the heartache, the sleepless nights, the lost faith. I try to hide it, but I'll never really trust him again.

Here's another thing Mark may not have considered. There comes a time when a man slows down, usually about the time his wife gets her second wind. Then she may reap what he has sown, for his wife won't feel very guilty finding a new love when she remembers back to his unfaithfulness. — TAKE IT FROM ME

Dear Helen: Reading about the man who said a spot of adultery saved his marriage, I wonder if it would work for my wife. I really don't want another woman, but if my wife would find a man of her choice, learn how to live, and then come back to me, maybe she'd wake up to the fact that time is a-wastin'. We've been married 25 dull monotonous, monogamous years! — NO NAME

Dear N.N.: You overlook one thing: If your wife found a man who taught her how to live, she might not come back to dull, monotonous, etc., you. — H

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Two baseball teams were the stars of weekend television. But if the weather was the villain of Sunday's drama in Detroit, the heroes of the afternoon were the sports announcers.

The start of the fourth World Series game delayed by foul weather was a hiatus of well over an hour after three innings had been played when the announcers — Curt Gowdy, George Kell and Tony Kubek — went through the broadcasters' nightmare of finding something to talk about and show the viewers.

Somehow they staggered through it — with interviews, with reports from the locker rooms, by rerunning highlights from earlier games and just chatting back and forth, mostly about the weather.

By the time the Cardinals had piled up 10 runs to the Tigers' 1, the pro football game NBC had expected to start covering at 4 p.m. was half over.

Alert showbookers who watch baseball had the same idea for two shows. Bob Gibson of the Cardinals and Denny McLain of the Tigers have been signed for appearances next Sunday on CBS' Ed Sullivan Show — Gibson to play the ukelele and McLain the organ. The following night they'll be guest stars on the Bob Hope special.

"Bonanza," NBC's longtime popular Western, obviously is reacting to its first tough competition in years — the Smothers Brothers Show — by stepping up the action and drama.

Sunday night's show had a sort of "High Noon" suspense about it. Ben Cartwright and sons picked up a very bad guy and tried to have him jailed in a town whose sheriff had been murdered by outlaws and whose citizens were too scared to fight.

Ben put the prisoner in jail, but the whole town deserted overnight, except for three women, an old man and a boy. The rest of the story showed preparations in the ghost town for the arrival of the outlaw gang, coming to free the prisoner. There was also some character development before the final shootout and happy ending.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
ANET, France (AP) — "Name all the bad things that could happen to a film company, and they happened to us. Plus a few things that nobody thought of before."

This was the bemused comment of Blake Edwards, the youthful-looking movie veteran "Days of Wine and Roses," youthful-looking movie veteran who has been filming — or trying to film — "Sarlino Lili" since March 18.

The day's work in this French village near Paris was an example of Edwards' trials. He required only two brief scenes: one in which Julie Andrews and Rock Hudson strolled beside a stream; another in which Miss Andrews, portraying a World War I spy, entertained wounded veterans. All morning long, clouds dodged around the sun, idling the cast and crew of 250, including 85 homesick Hollywoodians.

"And both these shots are retakes," Edwards explained with controlled exasperation. "I filmed them once before, but the camera was defective."

Such troubles have added $5 million to the cost of "Darling Lili." Edwards now estimates the final total at between $16 million and $17 million — provided there are no more catastrophes.

Edwards, a third-generation film maker who is producer, director and co-writer of "Darling Lili," rattled off some of the calamities that have befallen it:

"In Brussels we had a full-scale riot; 1,500 extras put on a demonstration for more pay. Naturally we had to pay them. So I shot the sequence — and the film was ruined. I shot it again — and the film was ruined once more. So I shot it a third time."

"You wouldn't believe the amount of film that the London lab has ruined. And the weather! The worst within memory. We have sat around for days waiting for the sun to appear. In Ireland I figured I would lick the weather. I knocked myself out rewriting the scene for cloudy weather. So what happens? We encountered the hottest 10 days in recent Irish history."

"Finally I gave up on Ireland and came to France to shoot a sequence of an airplane landing on a green field. Then I found out they have mowed the fields and they're all brown. I have toured all of France in a helicopter and cannot find a suitable field. Now I will have to go back to Ireland to finish the sequence before we can go back to Hollywood and finish the picture."

Mrs. F. O. Middlebrooks will go as a representative from our proud little Columbus, Arkansas.

Plane Lands on Automobile

BAGLEY, Minn. (AP) — People may not believe Herbert Pooch when he explains the damage to his car by saying "a plane landed on it," but that's what happened.

The 63-year-old man was driving along a highway near here Sunday when he heard a noise and saw a propeller and wheels. George Fletcher, 35, told authorities his small airplane developed engine trouble and he decided to land on the highway. While carefully watching oncoming traffic, he said, he failed to notice Pooch's car below him.

Neither man was hurt.

Edwards admitted that all the travails — and the extra $5 million — will be forgotten if "Darling Lili" is a hit. And with Julie Andrews, who happens to be Edwards' own darling in real life, its chances are good.

will wear out a welcome that has been there for so many years. I don't want to disappoint anybody, particularly myself."

Astaire, who lives alone in his Beverly Hills home and keeps three racehorses as a profitable hobby, is a man at peace with his soul.

"This may sound lousy to some," he said, "But I think life is wonderful. I've largely escaped illness and tragedy except for the death of my wife nearly 15 years ago. That has been hard to accept, but I've learned to live with it. But it still bothers me that so many interesting things have happened I know she would have liked to have seen."

"But I have two grandchildren I enjoy, and if you have a sense of humor, you can always find something to laugh at."

He has a simple philosophy: "I never know why I do things — except that if I want to, I do. I would rather like to win the Kentucky Derby but if I don't" — he gave an elfish grin — "there are other races that are fun to win."

Here are Fred's likes:

"Brown suede shoes and blue, yellow and pink shirts — baseball, if they'd just get rid of the intentional walk — blues songs — good solid rock music — mod clothing — miniskirts — playing golf and billiards — French cooking, although I'm a light eater — bourbon old-fashioned — warm weather — and doing things by myself."

And here are his dislikes:

"Being asked to dance at a party — the sound of fire engines or ambulances — staying up late — thin neckties — foods cooked in rich sauces — cigarette butts, since I've quit smoking — false, or exaggerated reports in the newspapers — gushing flattery, because it's embarrassing — talking about myself."

Americans Are Living Longer

U. S. population growth during the Twentieth Century has resulted more from a declining death rate than from rising birth rates, the National Health Institute reports. Tremendous public health improvements, better nutrition, and modern medicine have helped boost life expectancy at birth from 45 years in 1900 to more than 70 years today.

Good News For Blue Cross And Blue Shield Medi-Pak Members!

Hogs Clearly Dominated 2nd Half

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Generally, statistics are boring. However, the facts and figures on the second half of Arkansas' 17-7 come-from-behind victory over TCU are revealing. They indicated how clearly Arkansas controlled the ball and the final 30 minutes of play.

For instance, in the second half: TCU ran 23 offensive plays, Arkansas 49. TCU netted 14 yards, Arkansas 163. TCU made two first downs, and none on its final eight possessions. Arkansas made nine.

You might say the defense came of age in the second half, continually giving the Arkansas offense good field position.

"I thought our defense did a great job," said Arkansas coach Frank Broyles. "A lot better than I had expected for this early in the season, due to our lack of experience."

"I knew our defense would improve as the season went along, because our boys want it to," he said. "But I didn't think we could play this well defensively, this early."

The Razorbacks knew they had to halt Norman Bulach and Ross Montgomery, two big running backs with sprint speed.

They did it by blitzing far more than they had in either of the first two games. Bulach picked up 38 yards on 13 carries. Montgomery earned 32 yards on 10 tries.

TCU seemed to have that intangible - momentum - going for it in the first half. The Horned Frogs had forced the Razorbacks to settle for three points after reaching the TCU six, and had rushed 66 yards in the closing minutes of the first half for their first touchdown in four years against the Porks.

The second half belonged to Arkansas. Momentum is just like balancing scales," said Broyles. "When you take something off one it compounds the other."

The play that turned the momentum around was a 31-yard pass interference penalty early in the fourth period. The penalty moved the ball to the Frogs' 32.

Bill Montgomery, the Porks' talented sophomore quarterback, needed six plays to get the six points. Bill Burnett, who played most of the final three quarters at tailback after David Dickey was injured, scored from the one.

The Porks clinched it a couple of minutes later, driving 27 yards following an interception by Gary Adams.

"Our offense showed a lot of poise not to get rattled," Broyles said.

Alabama and UCLA Are Defeated

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Past performance? It didn't mean a thing to Mississippi's Rebels and West Texas State's Mercury Morris.

Ol' Miss ended a 58-year winless streak against arch-rival Alabama, beating the Crimson Tide 10-8 Saturday on a 44-yard field goal by Perry King.

A crowd of 47,152—largest ever to see a football game in Mississippi—was on hand for the Rebels' historic victory.

Meanwhile, Eugene Morris of West Texas, whose nickname is Mercury, exploded for 340 yards in 35 carries, setting a National Collegiate record in a 35-20 victory over Montana State.

Morris' one-man show erased a 20-year-old mark of 326 yards set by Fred Wendt of Texas-El Paso against New Mexico State on Nov. 25, 1948.

Elsewhere, Purdue and Southern California, the nation's top two teams, both won easily.

Leroy Keyes raced for three touchdowns as the Boilermakers romped to a 43-6 victory over Northwestern. It was Purdue's third straight victory.

USC won its third in a row, whipping 13th-ranked Miami 28-3. O.J. Simpson scored twice and gained 163 yards on 38 carries. It was the first loss for Miami.

Among The Associated Press Top Ten teams, only ninth-ranked UCLA lost. The Bruins were beaten at Syracuse, 20-7, by Bill Madox, a tight end, returning a UCLA onside kick for a touchdown to wrap it up in the fourth quarter.

Third-ranked Penn State topped stubborn West Virginia 31-20. The Nittany Lions simply wore down the Mountaineers, who had led early on a pair of TD passes by Mije Sherwood.

Florida, No. 4, won its third with a 31-14 triumph over Mississippi State. Fifth-ranked Notre Dame bounced back from a 1-7 loss to Purdue by punishing Iowa 51-28 with Terry Hanratty passing for one touchdown and running for two others.

Ohio State, ranked sixth, whipped Oregon 21-6 and set the stage for next week's Big Ten showdown with Purdue. Kansas, No. 8 and Louisiana State, No. 10, both romped. The Jayhawks bombed New Mexico 68-7 while LSU walloped Baylor 48-16.

Nebraska, ranked seventh, did not play.

completed 5 of 8 passes before Jim Lindsey ran three yards for the touchdown.

Kapp returned in time to set up Fred Cox 29-yard field goal before Bill Munson's 30-yard touchdown pass to Mel Farr tied it for Detroit.

But Kapp, running 20 yards and passing for 24 on one drive and throwing 53 yards to Gene Washington on a second, took the Vikings 73 and 39 yards for touchdowns.

The Packers climbed back into the race with 21 third-quarter points that spoiled Norm Van Brocklin's debut as Atlanta coach. Leading only 10-7 at the half, Donny Anderson ran for one score and then a fumble and a pass interception set up Bart Starr's second and third touchdown passes of the day.

Clark connected on the longest field goal of his career late in the third quarter and Chuck Howley stole a Jim Hart pass to set up a touchdown as Dallas broke a 10-10 tie.

ence calls set up four touchdowns for the Giants, and a penalty on the apparent last play of the half made a field goal possible.

Morrill, still giving Baltimore little reason to miss injured Johnny Unitas, connected on scoring passes of 50, 45, 38 and 66 yards with 14 completions in 25 tries for 302 yards.

Gabriel passed 41 yards to Bernie Casey for one score, drove one yard for another and set up a third with his passing for Los Angeles.

Sonny Jurgensen built Washington a 17-0 lead, throwing for one touchdown and running for another. But the Redskins barely survived as Norm Snead, returning after an exhibition game's injury, passed for a touchdown and Al Haymond returned a punt 54 yards for another for the Eagles.

Mr. Gibson Makes Series a Farce

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Now that Bob Gibson has made another farce of his celebrated World Series confrontation with Denny McLain, the pitchers may call a cease fire and join the same team.

Gibson, who overwhelmed McLain and the rest of the Detroit Tigers with a five-hit, 17-strikeout performance in the Series opener, threw another five-hitter as St. Louis battered McLain and five other pitchers 10-1 Sunday.

That gave the Cardinals 3-1 edge in the series and left it up to Mickey Lolich, the only successful Tiger hurler, to keep the season alive in his duel with Nelson Briles today. Lolich beat Briles in the second game last Thursday.

Before gaining his seventh straight complete game Series victory, Gibson had to work and wait through four hours and 25 minutes of rain, mist and cold.

That was a lot longer than McLain was around—the 31-game winner removed himself from the game during the 74-minute, third-inning rain delay—but when the game finally had ended, the pitchers found themselves making similar post-Series plans.

The plans revolve around Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who visited both clubhouses after sitting through the long afternoon.

"I'm going to back that man," McLain said, adding he would join Humphrey's campaign tour for two or three days after the Series.

"I'll probably get into Washington after the season, and I imagine we'll probably get together," Gibson said following an invitation from Humphrey to meet with him. "I'm a Democrat, but I'm not a politician. I'm a pitcher."

And McLain was the first to second that statement.

"He's a great, great competitor, one of the greatest I've ever seen," the 24-year-old Tiger said.

McLain disclosed he asked to be taken out of the game because his right shoulder was bothering him. But he refused to use that as an alibi for a performance in which he was rocked for four runs and six hits in 2-3 innings.

At the same time, McLain said he doesn't think his two Series losses rub any of the luster off his 31-victory season, the first in the majors in 37 years.

"I don't think it's embarrassing to get knocked about in a World Series," he said.

"There are guys who have lost two games before. Sandy Koufax lost two a few years ago and Whitey Ford lost two before that."

"And it can't hurt me one dime financially either. I'm booked solidly all winter long. There's nothing that can hurt that. I guess my pride is the biggest thing that's hurt."

His pride started taking a bigger dip on the second pitch of Sunday's game, when Lou Brock smashed a 415-foot home run after his leadoff appearance had been delayed by rain for 37 minutes.

By the time the rain was falling heavily enough for time to be called—in the third inning—the Cardinals had rapped McLain for five more hits and three more runs.

When play resumed 74 minutes later, McLain no longer was the Detroit pitcher.

"I told Mayo I just couldn't continue and asked him to take me out," McLain explained, staring at the ground. "My shoulder has been bothering me since the Baltimore series last month, and it was real sore today."

"I didn't want to hurt my arm anymore because I have other seasons to think of."

The Tigers had the game to think of, and they did their best to delay it long enough for the rain to become unbearable.

In the top of the fourth inning, first baseman Norm Cash went to the mound to talk to relief pitcher Daryl Patterson. In the bottom of the inning, Willie Horton went to the dugout to clean his spikes and his bat and Jim Northrup exchanged his broken bat.

The Cardinals countered in the fifth inning when Julian Javier, on base with a two-out single, tried to steal second and was out easily.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst insisted Javier had the steal sign and just left first too soon. But that move, and the others, induced the umpires to call Schoendienst and Tiger boss Mayo Smith to the plate for a conference.

"We didn't want one team to be hurrying and we didn't want one team to be stalling," plate umpire Bill Kinnamon said. Kinnamon didn't say anything about Gibson speeding up so that's what the 32-year-old right-hander did.

After allowing a hit in each of the first four innings, Gibson struck out Jim Price and Dick McAuliffe and retired Mickey Stanley on a fly to center. That made the game official.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, amassed 13 hits, including a home run by Gibson in the fourth and three hits by Brock—a homer, a triple and a three-run double in the eighth.

Gibson's blow made him the only pitcher ever to hit two homers in Series play, and Brock stole third after his double, giving him a record-tying seventh steal in this Series and a record-tying 14th for all of his Series play.

The first mark he tied was his own; the second belonged to Eddie Collins.

What Gibson and Brock and the rest of the Cardinals did was leave the Tigers with the almost impossible task of coming back from a 3-1 deficit.

The way things look now Gibson might not have to go through a third battle with McLain. In fact there's one question as to whether McLain would pitch again in the Series if it went to the seventh game.

Reddies All But Out of AIC Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The "must" label is applied far often, but Henderson's situation meets the requirements.

A week ago the Reddies were rated as one of the two or three favorites in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference race. Now, they're on the brink of disappearing from the race.

Arkansas Tech placed Henderson in the precarious position Saturday night at Russellville by scoring a 16-7 decision. The victory technically lifted Tech to the top of the AIC standings with a 2-0 record.

State College of Arkansas and Southern State, both 1-0, are only a step behind.

And, Southern State journeys to Arkadelphia this week to face Henderson. A loss would damage Southern State's title hopes. It would virtually extinguish Henderson's.

Bill Nelson's 95-yard return of the second-half kickoff started Tech on its way to the victory over Henderson. Tech led 16-0 before Henderson scored in the final period.

Southern State unleashed Phil Trotter on Harding and opened conference play with a 36-14 victory over the Bisons.

All Trotter did was score two touchdowns, one on a 40-yard punt return, pass for another touchdown and return a kickoff 69 yards to set up a field goal.

State College plays Louisiana College at Conway Saturday night and should boost its record to 4-0.

Bobcats Did Well But Couldn't Win

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Finding out for the first time that they could play their best and still not win, the Hope Bobcats lost their 4-AA Western Division opener by a 21-0 count to the Malvern Leopards last Friday night at Hammons Stadium.

Whatever Malvern tried to pull on offense, it didn't work unless Cornell Williams was in it, and then only occasionally. The 9.6 sprinter broke loose on three plays, and all of those either set up or scored the Leopards' three touchdowns in the first half.

The Malvern speed merchant first shook for 40 yards on a pass reception in the first quarter when he was seemingly downed for a five-yard gain. The play carried to the Bobcat ten, and on second down it was Williams again, breaking around his right end for eight yards and score.

Although the Bobcats had that bifocal offense of the Leopards' beautifully scouted and held everyone but Williams to virtual ineffectiveness, the Hope offense just couldn't open the door and get unbound until the second half.

When the Cats finally started moving with the shotgun offense, long losses and penalties killed every advancement into Malvern territory, the deepest at the 17-yard stripe. Pushed back into bad field position, the Bobcats had to punt eight times, and only had one run back.

It was nearly a perfect evening for the punt coverage team, but when Cornell Williams broke two early tackles on a return midway in the second period he had the momentum to get to his wall at the sideline. After taking the pigskin at midfield, Mr. Speed trundled on, until he was miraculously caught with a shoestring tackle at the Hope three by Micky Allen. Three plays later, though, Williams only had one yard separating him from the end zone and fell over.

Then the next time the Leopards touched the ball it was our Malvern subject breaking on a simple trap play for 68 yards to paydirt. When the extra point made it 21-0, Malvern enthusiasts in the press box were speculating scores as high as 50-0, but Cornell Williams would have had to score every touchdown.

It turned out that the Bobcats got Williams' number in the second half, and it was only the impotence of the Hope offense against Malvern's big and strong defense that kept the game from being a real contest in the final two quarters.

This week is the breather for the Bobcats, now a little battle-weary. Texarkana Washington shouldn't provide much opposition to the Bobcats, but then anything could happen. Hope has an extra day to rest, since the game is scheduled for Saturday night at Buhrman Field in Texarkana.

Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Dear Bob Gibson:

In the St. Louis dressing room Sunday, you were asked if you realized you had added to your collection of World Series records with your five-hit, 10-strikeout victory over Detroit.

You said you weren't aware of them, and added: "Why don't you get me a record book, so I can keep up with those things."

Well, we can't let get of the record book until the World Series is over, but everything's been researched, and here's the list of records you put in the book while beating the Tigers 10-1 for a 3-1 Cardinal lead:

- 3—Most consecutive victories, 7.
- Most consecutive complete game victories, 7.
- Most games, 10 or more strikeouts, 5.
- Most homers, career, pitcher, 2.

You also hold the strikeout record for a single game, and 17 you struck out in the opener last Wednesday—and you might have added the record for the longest time standing in the rain without an umbrella.

Gibson stood out in a steady drizzle for about three hours against the Tigers in the rain-plagued game and, despite an aching arm, a pulled leg muscle and Detroit's delaying tactics, gained his second victory in another head-to-head duel with 31-game winning Denny McLain, and hit a home run.

And despite the rain and the pain, the fireballing 32-year-old right-hander said not one word in complaint—even about the fuss created when the Tigers protested that the white part of his undershirt was showing in the fifth inning.

"I guess," said Gibson, "it was hanging down. They probably were right."

Raiders in 14th Straight Victory

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The end may be just around the corner for the Houston Oilers but it probably won't be anything like the end around that did in the Boston Patriots Sunday.

The Oilers, defending champs in the American Football League's Eastern Division, were stunned by Miami 24-7 and fell into a last-place tie with Buffalo. Both have 1-4 records.

Meanwhile, Boston held a 10-7 halftime lead over the AFL champion Oakland Raiders. But a 41-yard end around by Warren Wells gave Oakland the lead in the third period and when the fireworks were over the Raiders had a 41-10 triumph, their 14th straight, equaling the league record.

In the only other Sunday game, Denver turned back Cincinnati 10-7 on a fourth-period touchdown pass from Steve Tensi to Mike Heffner. Saturday night, New York edged San Diego 23-20 and Kansas City beat Buffalo 18-7.

In the National Football League Sunday, Green Bay trounced Atlanta 38-7, Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 24-10, Baltimore whipped Chicago 28-7, Dallas downed St. Louis 27-10, New York walloped New Orleans 38-21, Minnesota trimmed Detroit 24-10 and Washington nipped Philadelphia 17-14. Saturday night, Cleveland beat Pittsburgh 31-24.

After Wells' touchdown, Dwayne Lamonea passed 17 yards to Hewitt Dixon for another score and the unbeaten Raiders got their final tally of the third period on a 20-yard pass from Lamonea to Charlie Smith, who fumbled on the Boston seven. Fred Biletnikoff, who caught six passes for 107 yards, scooped up the loose ball and ran it in.

Houston, minus hospitalized quarterback Pete Beathard, was no match for previously winless Miami despite an early touchdown by Woodie Campbell. Willie West ran 20 yards with a lateral from John Bramlett, who recovered a Houston fumble, to tie the score. Larry Csonka gave the Dolphins the lead on a two-yard plunge. Bob Griese's 50-yard scoring pass to Karl Noonan led it.

Griese completed seven of 12 passes for 92 yards and rookies Csonka and Jim Klick rushed for 82 and 104, respectively. Bob Davis and Don Trull, filling in for Beathard, managed only seven completions in 23 attempts.

Quarterback Tensi, back in the Denver line-up for the first time since a pre-season injury, flipped a four-yard pass to Heffner in the closing minutes to give the Broncos their first victory. Tensi replaced Marlin "The Magician" Briscoe, who failed to move the Broncos.

Emerson Boozer plunged across on fourth down from a yard out to give the Jets their Saturday night win over San Diego before a record AFL crowd of 63,786. The Chargers had taken the lead with six minutes left when Gary Garrison caught his second touchdown pass of the game.

Jan Stenerud missed an extra point but kicked field goals of 18, 12, 16 and 15 yards in Kansas City's win over Buffalo. The conversion miss was Stenerud's first as a pro after 58 successful ones.

The game of handball was introduced into the United States from Ireland, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Oswald: "It is a pretty good rule to win a trick when you can, on the theory that it might never come back to you, but there are plenty of occasions when it is far better to hold off for awhile."

Jim: "They say that aces were made to take kings. They also were made to take queens, jacks and even deuces. The winning player will take his aces when they will do him the most good."

Oswald: "I made four no-trump with the South hand. There was no problem in the play. I ducked the first club and won the second. Then I led a diamond and called for dummy's king. East said, 'Not through the Iron Duke,' and produced the ace. Later on I finessed against West's jack and made my 10 easy tricks."

Jim: "It was certainly fine co-operation on the part of the Iron Duke. If they gave a special bonus to a player who made his trick early, he would have been in line."

Oswald: "West wanted to know what I would have done if East had quietly ducked that first diamond. Naturally, I told him that I would have been able to come back to my hand, lead a second diamond and play dummy's nine."

Jim: "You might have done that. My guess is that you would have tried to win the next diamond with the queen, whereupon East would take his ace and West would make his jack and two club tricks later on."

Oswald: "If I were playing against top opposition, I might still be sitting there trying to guess which diamond to play. Against this East, I would surely have gone wrong but it is all academic. He is not capable of holding back an ace when it can take a king."

Horatius Honk
Smoke 'Cure'
Color Work Slow

I got a buzz out of an Associated Press dispatch from Saigon two weeks ago, saved the copy, and it's been kicking around my desk ever since awaiting proper comment.

Actually the AP didn't originate the story, AP simply picked it up from the Army's Honk Report of Sept. 20-21.

According to Honk Report the Army has developed a dependable Early Warning System against Viet Cong attacks upon the Y-Bridge on Saigon's main highway link to the south.

The warning system is a flock of geese. The honkers pay no attention to U. S. troops, being familiar guys—but let a stranger approach and they sound off. "Geese of the Capitol" is their official name—a reference to Old Rome, which legend says was once saved from an invading army by loud warnings from Roman geese. Or perhaps one among them could be personalized as "Horatius Goose"—after Horatius Coclus who single handedly defended an all-important bridge at Rome against an invading Etruscan army.

Honk Report failed to say what variety of geese is being employed by the Yanks in Saigon. "Honker" could refer to the oyster-colored Canada Goose, but if I were to make an educated guess I'd say it's not the Canadian Honker but the common domestic white goose—who outshouts the Honker every time. I should know—I own a pair of each variety.

The Canadian Honker, despite his name, being a product of the wilderness is evasive and relatively silent. But the domestic white goose, raised in civilization, is as aggressive and noisy as a taxicab shouldering its way through metropolitan traffic.

Speaking of geese, the Honk report was short in calling them "Early Warning"—it should have spelled out the term in full: Continuous Early Warning.

Various "cures" to kill the smoking habit have been offered in the past but now they have come up with one that should be effective. A news note in Wall Street Journal says that Bravo Smokes which ventured into non-nicotine cigarettes made of lettuce a year ago—and flopped—is out with a new one, labeled "Triumph."

Figuring "Bravo" flopped due to odor and taste, the promoters of "Triumph" will test it in flavors vanilla, chocolate, and spearmint.

Yes, sir—that ought to kill smoking!

Claud W. Garner, Hope-Washington novelist ("Webback," "Cornbread Aristocrat") who now lives at Weatherford, Texas, sent me a copy of Fort Worth Star-Telegram dated Sunday, Sept. 29, in which he reviews a new book on Texas history by another author, "San Antonio's Mission San Jose," the work of Fr. Marion A. Habig, O.F.M.

Claud's postscript calls attention to a three-color photo by Wilburn Davis reproduced by Star-Telegram in the same edition, with a postscript: "I know you are interested in the color pictures used by other newspapers."

And of course we are. The Star hasn't produced a full-color picture layout since our 14th production, the Judson Azaleas, May 21—but we expect to return this month with a full page in four colors on the "Icecapades" in their Wizard of Oz presentation several years ago at Shreveport. It's timely because the 1968 version of the "Icecapades" will be playing at Shreveport Oct. 22-27.

We attempted to produce the Wizard of Oz layout last Spring when the "Icecapades" was playing at Little Rock—but technical trouble forced us to postpone. There has been no particular trouble with the Berkeley color separator, but plenty of grief with other equipment and materials. First we had to replace brand new but faulty refrigeration. Color work has to be run at 68 degrees, plus or minus half a degree, and finally we got a machine which holds chemicals within a quarter of a degree.

But our greatest grief came from the Tri-Mask film which makes the black-and-white copy of the color transparency. Tri-Mask film is extremely perishable. It fogged in storage before the guaranty period ran out, and

Wallace Says He'll Finish First

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential candidate George C. Wallace flung a treason charge today at antiwar demonstrators who fly the Viet Cong flag and march to chants of "Ho, Ho, Ho Chi Minh."

Wallace drew a line between opposition to U.S. involvement in Vietnam and speeches calling for a Communist victory in the war. One, he suggested, is legitimate dissent, the other "an overt act of treason."

To those who raise money for what he called Communist causes, who fly the Viet Cong flag, and who chant in honor of North Vietnam's President Ho Chi Minh, Wallace said, "I say it is treason."

The former Alabama governor spoke at a United Press International newspaper editors conference where he pledged, if president, he would never use nuclear weapons except in self-defense after an atomic attack.

Wallace said the way to prevent nuclear warfare is to maintain such a strong U.S. superiority in nuclear weapons that no other nation would dare attack.

He renewed his call for a military victory in Vietnam if the Paris talks are unsuccessful, but said, "I would not consider nuclear war at all in Vietnam."

Wallace was accompanied by his newly chosen running mate, Gen. Curtis LeMay, retired Air Force general as he led off a triple headed series of speeches by presidential candidates at the conference. Wallace is to be followed within the next day by Republican Richard M. Nixon

Going on 70, Fred Astaire Is a Guy That Nobody Knocks

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — He's the guy nobody knocks because nobody wants to. He's what is known on Broadway as "a class guy."

All his life he has looked like was having a good time, and Fred Astaire still does now as he nears 70.

It has been more than half a century since the slender boy from Omaha and his sister Adele danced to stardom here in "Over the Top," away back in 1917 when America was Tweaking the Kaiser's mustache. But he still has that same nostalgic blitheness of spirit and rhythm that made him a symbol of the carefree 1920s.

It's on view again in a film version of "Finian's Rainbow," Fred's first musical in eight years.

Astaire is quietly amused at Eastman Kodak replaced it with new film.

We were then able to produce the Judson Azaleas picture May 21, after which the Summer vacations left us short-handed. Now we expect to get out the "Icecapades" production without too much trouble.

Clifford's Visit to Remind Russia U.S. Will Protect Berlin

By FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford intends his West Berlin visit this week to be a pointed reminder to the Soviet Union of U.S. determination to protect Western rights in that encircled city.

Clifford is scheduled to attend the Oct. 10-11 meeting of the NATO nuclear planning to group in Bonn. This gives him the chance to go to Berlin, where he will inspect U.S. armed forces and tour the city, which stands 100 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The Clifford visit fits in with a general pattern of a tough U.S. government attitude toward the Soviets in the wake of the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and subsequent threatening statements aimed at West Germany and West Berlin.

American authorities are concerned about a heavy movement of Russian troops into Central Europe, particularly some 17 divisions into Czechoslovakia.

It is the U.S. view that the stationing of highly combat-ready Russian troops in Czechoslovakia—where there were no such troops before August—raises a potentially grave threat to West Germany and other NATO countries.

Last week, State Department officials reported that the regular winter meeting of NATO foreign ministers would be moved up from mid-December to mid-November in Brussels so they can consider steps to stiffen the public image of graceful insouciance he has built up over the years.

"I have the idea," he remarked, "that people regard me—affectionately, I hope—as someone who danced from here to there through life rather like an idiot. But it wasn't that way at all."

"The success I've had came from knowing where I was going—looking like I knew where I was going. Like the Boy Scouts, I've always believed in being prepared."

Behind the seemingly effortless nonchalance of his dance steps lie endless hours of practice. If there is dialogue, "I learn my lines until I could give them standing on my head in a tree."

Having starred in every medium from vaudeville to television, Fred has no particular professional goals left to conquer.

"I only want to do now what is worth doing," he said. "I don't have to go for the money, and I am hard to get because I don't want to do anything that

HHH Lashes Tactics of His Rivals

CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey said today that as the presidential campaign moves along "more and more people are getting fed up" with the tactics of his two rivals.

Opening a three-city swing through Pennsylvania's industrial heartland, the Democratic presidential nominee said, "I've noticed that more and more people are getting fed up with Mr. Nixon and Mr. Wallace and their tactics to win the presidency."

He said he thinks he knows as much as the pollsters about what is on people's minds and "the people—and not the pollsters nor anybody else" will pick a president.

Humphrey's remarks were prepared for delivery at a downtown rally before he heads east to Scranton and Wilkes-Barre in his third visit to one of the big states crucial to his presidential hopes.

One of the questions Americans are asking themselves, Humphrey contended, is "Which candidate and which party can you trust?"

"I say you can't trust a candidate like George Wallace whose only appeal is to people's fears," the vice president said, and "you can't trust a candidate like Richard Nixon who refuses to speak out on vital issues and who says one thing in the North and another thing in the South."

He attacked Nixon's position on federal enforcement of Supreme Court desegregation de-

Democrats Open Up a Headquarters

Hempstead County Democrats will open a downtown headquarters Tuesday, October 8, in the building behind Ward and Son Drug Co. on South Walnut street.

The headquarters will be staffed by Hempstead County Democratic Women and other Democratic volunteers. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., six days a week, thru November 4.

Official Grand Opening and Open House of the Headquarters will be Friday, October 11, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served during these hours.

Plans are being completed for the big Democrat Rally to be held Thursday, October 24, in the Livestock Coliseum at the Fair Park. All Democratic candidates have been invited to speak at the rally. There will be entertainment and refreshments and an overflow crowd is expected from all over the state.

Takes Money to Run for President

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's Republican presidential campaign is said by its managers to be proving the most expensive ever waged, with a price tag expected to run well over $20 million.

Nixon associates expected spending by both parties in the White House race to reach record levels. This is in part a product of inflation and in large measure the result of escalating outlays for television.

A series of interviews with Nixon assistants and advisers produced unanimity on one point: They consider their own campaign finances more substantial than those of Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

"We've caught on," said Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's political director. "Humphrey hasn't."

All the signs of plentiful campaign funds are evident as the Republican presidential nominee enters the final month of the campaign. Two key sources:

—Maurice H. Stans, a Republican finance chairman, said some 150,000 people have sent small contributions to the GOP campaign. Their donations average $15 apiece for a total of $2.25 million. That is with a month of money raising to go.

—A network of $100,000 dinners produced an estimated $4.5 million after expenses for the GOP presidential race. Campaign money men now are planning a series of $100 fund-raising dinners.

One top campaign source said Nixon's treasury also is receiving substantial support from people who give $1,000 and up.

A Nixon aide said it is not possible to report just how much money will be spent and may be because of the proliferating campaign committees involved in national and state operations for the GOP ticket.

"Twenty million is the round figure we've all been shooting at," he said. "Actually it probably will be higher."

Final reports of national-level spending during Barry Goldwater's losing 1964 campaign listed Republican expenditures at $19.3 million.

About half the Nixon budget originally was earmarked for television. The Nixon TV expense is expected to cost about $10 million.

The basic Nixon approach is a one-hour program on a state or regional television hookup. Those shows cost between $30,000 and $40,000 each. Campaign officials say at least nine are planned.

Nixon also is using network radio, which gets his voice on the air nationally for about $10,000 a program.

After a day off in New York, Nixon resumes his campaign today, with appearances in Washington and Buffalo, N.Y.

U.S. Supreme Court Opens Session Under Shadow of Scrutiny

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tranquil ceremony opening the Supreme Court's new term today stands in contrast to the explosive cases on its docket and the controversy over President Johnson's unsuccessful attempt to make Abe Fortas chief justice.

The high court faces a session accented by the pleas of demonstrators and dissenters, and an opportunity for the court to extend its activism into a new area—the plight of the poor.

The court also will be acting under the shadow of the scrutiny cast on its decisions during the Senate fight which killed Johnson's move to elevate Fortas from being an associated justice into the spot now held by Earl Warren.

The political campaign also has been thrust at the court, exemplified by third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace's statement that Warren "hasn't got enough legal sense to try a chicken thief in Alabama."

Group Cuts Deeply Into Housing Fund

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut deeply from the administration's request for funds to launch its new low-income housing program, and to expand the food stamp program.

Also sharply trimmed by the committee were requests for money to enable the administration to enforce the new open housing law, and for a juvenile delinquency control program.

The cuts were made in the final appropriations bill of the year, which the committee reduced from $270 million requested by the administration to $101 million.

In a report accompanying the bill, the committee said it "is not impressed with the urgency of all the programs and has provided only for those that are most important."

The House, scheduled to take the bill up Tuesday, is likely to go along with nearly all the recommended cuts.

Chief casualties were the food stamp program, which Congress recently expanded, and the new housing program designed to increase home ownership among

Allies Trying to Spoil Cong Attacks

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of allied troops scoured the battle-scarred mountain valleys near Khe Sanh and the jungled foothills southwest of Da Nang today in new offensives aimed at spoiling enemy attacks.

Task forces of U.S. Marines, American and South Vietnamese infantrymen met little resistance, but continued to turn up valuable enemy munitions stockpiles.

One stockpile found two miles below the center portion of the demilitarized zone yielded 200 rounds of 152mm artillery ammunition plus 100 fuses. This indicated that the enemy may be planning to move big Russian-made guns into the South. The 152s can fire a 90-pound missile 10.5 miles.

Military spokesmen, in delayed reports, announced the loss of four more American aircraft to enemy ground fire over the past three days.

They included an observation plane and a reconnaissance helicopter helping the allied ground troops search for the enemy, a Navy A7 Corsair fighter-bomber downed over North Vietnam, and an assault helicopter hit near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon.

One of the observation planes was shot down Sunday 500 yards south of the abandoned Marine base at Khe Sanh. The pilot and artillery observer were unhurt.

The Marines returned to Khe Sanh over the weekend in a new offensive sweep through the one-time fortress, three months after giving it up for what the U.S. Command said was more flexibility and mobility.

The Marines apparently acted on intelligence reports that North Vietnamese troops had moved into Khe Sanh, but the Leathernecks went in unopposed. A U.S. spokesman said they don't plan to stay.

The Sanh underwent a 77-day enemy siege earlier this year, but Marines held out until it was lifted early in April by a relief force.

Debate Issues Debated by Candidates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The candidates for lieutenant governor kicked about the question of a debate again Saturday, but apparently it ended right where it started.

Bill Wells, the Democratic nominee, said he would debate the Republican incumbent, Maurice Britt, on any condition set by Britt.

Although Wells said in a statement he accepted "all of your conditions and ask none for myself," one of Britt's conditions has been a package debate between Republican candidates for state offices and their Democratic opponents.

"I know of no television station which has offered them time," Wells said. "We have been offered time and should accept it, if time is offered them, they should accept it."

Wells said KARK-TV in Little Rock has offered free time for a debate between himself and Britt. He said he and his representative would be at KARK at 4 p.m. today to meet with Britt to make final arrangements.

Conference Recruiting Rules Relaxed

By DENNIS H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) South-west Conference faculty representatives agreed Sunday to unlimited visitation of prospective high school athletes in an attempt to meet intense competition from schools outside the eight-member league.

The faculty representatives rescinded a two-visit regulation that had been in effect for eight years.

Visits of prospective athletes and of their parents had been limited to two trips before the signing date - the Tuesday preceding February 15, - and two visits after the sign-up date.

Under the new rules, there will be no restrictions on visits before or after the sign-up date.

The SWC also agreed that recruiting member will not contact athletes or their parents until the end of competition in the sport for which the athlete had been recruited.

The conference also ruled that future high school athletes can visit a league school on a regular school day with written permission of his principal.

In the past, athletes had to limit visit to conference schools one non-school day such as weekends or holidays.

The SWC also scheduled a meeting for Dec. 2 for staff members engaged in recruiting to acquaint all recruiters with rules.

It will be the first such meeting of its kind in the conference history.

The move by the conference eliminates the situation in which it had handicapped itself in competition with outside schools such as the University of Oklahoma and the University of Houston. These schools visited the schoolboy athletes an unlimited number of times.

The conference issued a statement saying that it "unanimously agrees that the two-visits rule is a good rule for all concerned and is hopeful that it may be accepted some day on a national basis but felt the change was necessary to meet outside competition."

Brock Wanted and Got a New Record

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — There was a record. Lou Brock wanted it. He got it.

"You're darn right I wanted it," Brock said about the 14th base he has stolen in World Series play.

Brock took a shot at it in the eighth inning. The bases were loaded, and Brock rammed the ball to the center field wall. He was almost to third, then suddenly wheeled around and darted back to second. Bob Gibson turned back to third, then ran home.

Third base coach Joe Schultz had put up the stop sign, but it was for Gibson, who was in front of Brock.

So Brock had a three-run double that capped the St. Louis Cardinal scoring as they beat the Detroit Tigers 10-1 Sunday in the fourth game of the World Series.

And then Brock stole third. That tied him with Eddie Rousek of the old Philadelphia Athletics.

"If I got a chance to break it, I would," he added.

Polls Show Nixon Lead Commanding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon—showing a commanding lead in the three-way presidential race in two new surveys—says people and not vast new government programs are the answer to city and poverty ills.

Massive new programs, Nixon said in a Sunday night telecast in New York, would only "drain the federal treasury to soothe the public conscience" and would fail.

Nixon said the reliance should be on private enterprise, and on millions of Americans he said stand ready to help if they knew what to do.

"As government has strained to do more," he said, "our people have felt constrained to do less."

Nixon spoke on the heels of a New York Times survey showing him leading in states with more than enough electoral votes for election—and showing Democratic candidate Hubert H. Humphrey trailing in third place behind third party candidate George C. Wallace.

A Washington Post 50-state survey also showed a commanding lead for Nixon, and a toss up between Humphrey and Wallace at this point for third place.

But Wallace, in Washington to address United Press International editors and the National Press Club, disputed the Times survey and said he is going to finish first.

And Humphrey said "it's the people—and not the pollsters or anyone else" who will elect the next president.

"I think I know as much as the pollsters know about what's on the people's minds in this critical election year," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for an Erie, Pa., rally.

The Times survey published Sunday showed Nixon leading in 34 states with 380 electoral votes — 270 are needed for election—Wallace ahead in 7 states with 66 electoral votes and Humphrey leading in four states and the District of Columbia with a total 28 electoral votes.

The Washington Post survey showed Nixon strong or holding an edge in 32 states with 346 electoral votes, Humphrey in 7 states with 46 electoral votes and Wallace 6 states with 53 electoral votes.

But the Post rated six other states with 93 electoral votes as toss ups which could place either Humphrey or Wallace in third place at this point.

A former campaigner for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, meanwhile, said the Minnesota has set four conditions to be met before he will personally endorse Humphrey.

Gerald N. Hill, a San Francisco lawyer who headed McCarthy's campaign in California, told newsmen at a New Democratic Coalition conference in Minneapolis Sunday he had been authorized by McCarthy to release the conditions — and said none of them has been met.

Hill said they are that Humphrey agree to:

1. A halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

2. A national election in Vietnam including "all elements" of the political structure.

3. Reform of the U.S. military draft system.

4. Reform of the Democratic party structure.

Humphrey aides had said last week they were hoping an endorsement from McCarthy, who strongly opposed Vietnam policy during his campaign for the

Recalls War and the Lost Battalion

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty years ago Sunday, David Tulchin crouched in a foxhole in the Argonne Forest in France, ducking German bullets and wondering how long he would survive.

Tulchin, now 74, sat in the dining room of a Manhattan hotel Sunday, exchanging reminiscences with 25 other survivors of the World War I battle.

The 26 are among 70 men, scattered in 18 states, who were part of the so-called Lost Battalion which was trapped behind German lines, but whose members stood their ground for five Democratic presidential nomination, would rally antiwar Democrats' support to the vice president.

In other political developments: — Incumbent Democratic U.S. Sen. Daniel K. Inouye easily won renomination over William D. Lampard in the Hawaii primary Saturday. The state's two Democratic representatives, Patsy T. Mink and Spark M. Matsunaga, were unopposed.

— California Gov. Ronald Reagan said he would refuse a Cabinet post or ambassadorship if Nixon is elected and one were offered, Reagan said he was approached "on that general subject" at the GOP National Convention but said he would rather continue as governor.

— Humphrey picked up new endorsements from at least three newspapers over the weekend: the New York Times, The Atlantic Constitution, and the Denver Post.

days and five nights against overwhelming odds.

Out of 554 men from the First Battalion, 308th Infantry, 77th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces who began the battle only 193 survived.

Each year, the steadily dwindling number of survivors meet for a reunion.

"We were all drafted men," recalled Tulchin, who is retired now and lives with his wife of more than 30 years in an apartment on Manhattan's upper West Side. "I was just an office worker when I was drafted."

Of the battle, Tulchin said, "We advanced until we found ourselves surrounded by Germans although actually it wasn't until the morning after the siege began that we knew we were surrounded. You expected that by lunchtime the problem would be solved."

But the men of the battalion held off the Germans from the night of Oct. 2 until the night of Oct. 7 when help arrived.

"We had no food, no ammunition, no medical supplies," Tulchin said. "As people died and somebody else was wounded, there was nothing you could do but take the old bandage and reapply it."

Finally, said Tulchin, "on the evening of Oct. 7 the rest of the American troops got through."

Czechs Fear End to Regime of Dubcek

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakians fear that the Dubcek regime's program to liberalize and reform communism is nearing an end.

Ruling bodies of the Czechoslovak Communist party today planned a series of meetings to discuss the commitments forced by the Soviet Union at talks in Moscow Thursday and Friday with party chief Alexander Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik. An informal gathering of party leaders was expected to be followed by a session of the 21-member presidium and finally a meeting of the 160-member central committee.

Communists said the alternatives are:
—To continue the policy of seeking accommodation with Moscow, agree to semipermanent stationing of occupation troops in Czechoslovakia, and salvage as much as possible of the "post January" program to make communism more humane and democratic.

—To balk and give the Soviets the same choice they had after invading the country Aug. 20-21, that is, formation of a military government.

Som. Communists advanced a theory that it might be better for the country if the Dubcek regime resigned instead of losing its popularity by letting itself be used to carry out Soviet policy.

In the Czechoslovak-Soviet statement issued as they returned from Moscow, Dubcek and Cernik agreed to sign a treaty to legalize "temporary" stationing of part of the estimated 500,000 occupation troops in Czechoslovakia. The rest would be pulled out by stages.

The Czechoslovak defense minister, Gen. Martin Dzur, said in a weekend interview he is convinced the majority would be gone by Oct. 28. One source told of conditional plans for a pullout to start Oct. 15 and run for about two months, with up to 12 divisions—or more than 150,000 Soviet soldiers—staying the winter here.

Partial troop withdrawals was the only concession to Prague in the tough, apparently Moscow-dictated joint communique.

The wording of the communique and the obligations it listed for Czechoslovakia brought despair over the future of the reform policy.

Suggesting that Moscow demanded measures far tougher than those already taken to restore orthodox communism, the statement talked of action to place all press, radio and TV "at the service of socialism" and to "reinforce the party and state organs with men firmly adhering to positions of Marxism, Leninism and proletarian internationalism."

Airliner Is Hijacked by Woman

By OSCAR KAUFMANN
Associated Press Writer
MEXICO, D.F. (AP) — A 35-year-old woman from Argentina, who said she found life in Mexico intolerable, hijacked a twin-engine turboprop airliner with 17 persons aboard Sunday and ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba.

Mexican authorities said the woman, identified as Judith Vazquez, entered the cockpit and pulled a gun from beneath a white shawl. The pilot, Captain Ricardo Eroza Troyo, said that after ordering him to fly to Cuba the woman said hysterically, "I'd rather be killed or jailed in Cuba than return to Mexico."

The incident took place as the Aeromaya plane flew over Mexico's Isla Mujeres, the "Isle of Women," on its way to Merida.

After seven hours in Havana, the plane, which carried 14 passengers including three Americans and a crew of three, returned to Merida Sunday night. In addition to Mrs. Vazquez and her daughter, Silvia, 12, and a two-month-old son Ernesto, two unidentified women passengers remained in Havana. It could not be learned if they were connected with the hijacking, the 19th since Jan. 30.

In Havana, Mexican Ambassador Miguel Covian, who arranged for the release of the passengers and plane, said he found the hijack difficult to explain "when there are regular commercial flights between Mexico and Cuba."

Airline officials said the woman boarded the plane earlier in Mexico City with a round trip

Senate Favors Bomb Halt One Way or Another

By LAWRENCE L. KNUSTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — At least half the Senate favors one plan or another to halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Twenty-seven senators of the 85 who responded to an Associated Press survey said they favor an unconditional bombing halt. They are opposed by 18 senators who said there should be no further bombing reduction in the current stage of the war.

In between were 23 senators who said they would insist on some matching action by Hanoi, either in reducing the level of the fighting or in compromises at the bargaining table in Paris.

The 18 who oppose any reduction of the air predicted that a bombing halt would result in wholesale military infiltration from the North and stepped up, costly ground action in the South by Communist units taking advantage of a toothless American air dragon.

The senators who said they want the bombing halted unconditionally—at least on an experimental basis—maintained it would be an acceptable risk in an all-out attempt to end the fighting.

The AP survey was conducted after the flurry of congressional and political debate sparked by Vice President Hubert H. Hum-

Policies of LeMay Are Denounced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says that the policies of former Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay, if adhered to, would almost certainly result in a nuclear war with Russia.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace recently selected LeMay as his running mate. LeMay said last week he regarded the nuclear bomb as "just another weapon in the arsenal." He said nuclear weapons are the "most efficient" weapons that can be employed in certain situations.

Fulbright said that if LeMay's advice was followed it "would be a disastrous course for the country and the world."

"And it would result, I think, in a calamitous, catastrophic destruction of human life and property in both countries," he said.

Fulbright said he could not determine how LeMay would effect Wallace's bid for the presidency.

"I can only say my own feeling is it would be very dangerous for a man with his (LeMay) attitude toward the solution of very complex human problems by military means and especially with the use of nuclear weapons" to be vice president," Fulbright said.

ticket and was on her way back. Capt. Eroza said the woman told him she had lived in Mexico for six years. He said the woman gave no information about her husband or any of her activities.

When the plane flew over Cuban soil, Eroza said, the woman collapsed and threw away the pistol in the cabin "but it was already too late to turn back because the fuel was low."

The Americans aboard were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bruce of Michigan and Dr. Irving Towar of New York.

No addresses or hometowns were given.

Look Romantic

REMINISCENT of the 1930's very feminine fashions, yet new as now, this coat-dress is a joy to sew. Long, lean and low waisted, the style features a box pleated skirt that moves gracefully as you walk or sit. The popular fly front conceals a flexible Talon nylon-coil Zipper closing, a built in aid to uncluttered style, soft lines and step-in convenience. This sturdy Talon zipper is easy to sew in place and takes much less time than making button holes, sewing on buttons or snaps.

phrey's Sept. 30 Vietnam policy speech.
Humphrey said that as president he would consider stopping all bombing "as an acceptable risk for peace." He said that before acting he would "place key importance on evidence—direct or indirect, by deed or word—of Communist willingness to restore the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam."
He said that should the Hanoi government "show bad faith, I would reserve the right to resume the bombing."

age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months. Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience. But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.
